INTRODUCTION

International Trade Fair print, multichannel, packaging & future technologies

DRUPA 2021

Excellent business deals, an outstanding climate for investment, a remarkable number of extremely promising contacts, an even more international character, and a positive spirit for the global print sector drupa's new positioning and its focus on tomorrow's topics with huge potential for growth – such as 3D-printing, functional printing, and packaging printing – have really proven themselves. Whether printing for publication, advertising, packaging or industrial applications, print technology offers the appropriate solutions for all application areas and enables new areas of business and business ideas.
